Memory Loss: What's Normal, What's Not

When Thursday, Aug. 13, from 7 to 8 p.m.

Where Watch online. You'll get the link once you register.

Do you worry that forgetting names or where you put your keys might be a sign of impending dementia? Some memory loss is a normal part of aging. But sometimes forgetfulness is an early sign of serious conditions such as Alzheimer's disease.

Neurologist Alan Zacharias, MD, will discuss normal age-related forgetfulness, abnormal memory loss and the diagnosis and treatment of dementia. The discussion will be followed by an online Q&A chat.
